

FP899001 TANIS

The obelisk is distinguished in ancient Egypt used mainly in sacred architecture. The hieroglyphs in this design are taken from the Luxor obelisk placed in the center of the Place de la Concorde in Paris, a monolithic monument that has fascinated people since its installation in 1833. The weaving of raffia and textured threads laminated on non-woven backing plays with the light and creates shimmering reflections. Coordinated with F3665 TANIS.
